

Patric Ciervo

Monologue

6/30/17

When commenting on the proposed health plans Medicaid cuts, Kelly Anne Conaway said adults can just get a job. To which Trump said, "Please take mine!"

Kris Jenner wasn't happy that Kylie and Kendall spent Father's Day with Caitlyn Jenner. But, she is mostly upset because they also spent Mother's Day with her.

Trump said he wanted the proposed health care bill to have heart. But if the bill has a preexisting heart condition, it's not covered by insurance.

Wonder Woman is set to become the highest grossing movie directed by a woman, earning over $600 million in its first week. That is higher than Snoop Dog at a Willie Nelson Concert.

It is rumored that Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy is going to retire. Kennedy was appointed by Ronald Reagan, or as America calls him, the original celebrity President.

Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone turned twenty-years old today. Steve Bannon celebrated by paying tribute to his favorite character Voldemort.

Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone turned twenty-years old today. Sean Spicer celebrated by paying tribute to his Potter counterpart, Wortmail.

Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone turned twenty-years old today. The Sorcerer's stone was a stone that made you live forever. And is said to be owned by Larry King.

Regarding the vote on the proposed health care bill, McConnell said they are waiting to get 50 members of Congress in a comfortable place. Ironically, getting people in a comfortable place is the main job for a hospice nurse.

Alec Baldwin confirmed he will return to SNL play Trump next year. When Trump heard, he said "Wait, I have to do this next year?"

Trump has a fake Time Magazine cover of him hanging in five of his golf clubs. The only thing he has that is more fake is Melania's love.

Chris Christie legalized sparklers in NJ. Making him as fun as the guy on Halloween who gives out apples.