

Patric Ciervo

Monologue

7/14/17

A Congressional Committee wants to establish a real life Guardians of the Galaxy. I don't think this is what Trump met when he said he wanted to keep out Illegal Aliens.

Pence says that if they can't figure out a new plan to replace and repeal Obamacare, they may just repeal it. That is like saying "Sorry, I don't want to watch Toy Story Two and since I can't think of another movie, we will watch nothing".

JK Rowling wrote a book that was lost and may never be published. Creative work that might not be seen by the public? Sounds like the new Transformers movie.

Former Celebrity Apprentice contestant, Clay Aiken, says Trump didn't decide who got fired on The Apprentice, NBC did. Aiken was the runner up on his season. Making Clay Aiken the James Comey to NBC's Jeff Sessions.

The actor who does the voice of Kermit the Frog will be stepping down from the role after 27 years. He got emotional when talking about it and ironically got a frog in his throat.

Kid Rock announced he is running for Senate. This comes after Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson hinted he might run for President. At this rate, our Secretary of State is going to be Rocky Balboa.

Malala Yousafzai turned 20 years old today. Malala is Noble Peace Prize winner and when she was 15 she was stood up to the Taliban for banning girls from school. Meanwhile when I was 15 I was being dared to try and chug a gallon of milk.

The ESPY's were this week. The ESPY's are an award show for athletes. Because if there is one thing sports are lacking, it's trophies.

Instead of getting a receipt, customers at an ATM got a piece of paper asking for help from a man trapped inside. If I had a nickel for every time I got trapped inside an ATM, I would have one nickel plus every nickel inside the machine.

Instead of getting a receipt, customers at an ATM got a piece of paper asking for help from a man trapped inside. Police got him out after hitting yes to accepting the service fee.

Trump told France's First Lady Brigitte Macron that she is in such great shape. Trump however isn't in great shape, despite running from all the Russian accusations.

