MONOLOGUES

7/6/17

Today is 4th of July. The Day America became independent from Great Britain. Britain celebrated by reminding American's no taksies backsies.

With an approval rating at 15 percent, Chris Christie has the lowest approval rating of any Governor in twenty years. I don't understand how he could get that low. I won't even let my phone go that low.

Lindsay Lohan told her twitter followers to stop "bullying" Trump. Bullying Trump? We are asking for healthcare not lunch money.

Fox Sports President Jamie Horowitz will be leaving the network because of sexual harassment allegations. He is the third name from Fox to be accused of sexual harassment. Sexual harassment at Fox is like putting on a dress and singing "Call Me Maybe" by Carly Rae Jepsen in front of your mirror. In private, everyone is doing it.

A new photo suggests that Amelia Earhart may have survived her final flight and was taken captive by the Japanese. Such a shame. She would have never been taken if Liam Neeson was alive.

60 years ago today Paul McCartney and John Lennon met. They would become the best song writing duo of the 60's have written songs like "A Day in the Life". While the best writing duo of 00's were The Baha Men for "Who Let the Dogs Out".

The White House has a no sleeves dress code for women. While they have a no spine code for House Speakers.

The White House has a no sleeves dress code for women. The women find it annoying, but not as annoying as a cackling Sean Spicer who thinks it's funny to turn up the air conditioner.

Andrew Garfield is facing backlash after saying he is gay without the physical act. Garfield is gay without the physical act the same way I am Heisman Trophy winner without the physical act.

Trump and Putin met face to face for the first time Friday. Trump said it was an honor to meet Putin. Which is good, because sometimes it can be a letdown when you meet your heroes.

Trump and Putin met for face to face for the first time Friday. It was a historic day, the President of the United States met Trump.

Trump and Putin met face to face for the first time Friday. When they met Trump asked Putin "Why did you do this to me?"
